Process for Application for Off-Campus Exam

1. It is the student's responsibility to arrange for an invigilator, an appropriate site, and to pay any associated fees. They need to verify if exams can/cannot be returned to the NIC Instructors digitally (this will not impact if an invigilator will be approved or not). If a student is requesting a midterm and final, or multiple exams for the same course be forwarded to an invigilator, care must be taken to assure that the invigilator is willing to store the exams until needed.
2. Exams are to be written in a location approved by NIC Assessment Services. Ideally, exams are to be written at an accredited, post-secondary institution such as a community college. Other approved locations include public schools and libraries.
3. Exams are to be written under the supervision of an invigilator approved by NIC Assessment Services. An approved invigilator must be in a position of responsibility/authority and must be able to remain objective as far as the student is concerned. Preferred invigilators would be one of the following: a member of the assessment services staff of a post-secondary institution, an educator, a librarian, a counselor, a police officer, or a court official. Other invigilators would be subject to approval of the NIC Assessment Services Coordinator.
4. The invigilator cannot be a student in the same course or program, a relative (including by marriage), a friend or reside at the same address as the student.
5. Exams must not be written in the private residence of an invigilator.
6. Invigilators must sign the application form and by signing they are agreeing to invigilate all of the exams listed on the form.
7. North Island College reserves the right to reject proposed invigilators and sites.
8. When a form has been received and processed and the site and invigilator have been approved, the student will receive an email notification/confirmation from the NIC Assessment Services Department. Invigilation instructions will be emailed to the Invigilator. Exams will be mailed to the invigilator.
