FALL 2022 COURSE GUIDE

OUR MISSION

Enhancing the quality of life for older adults by offering affordable opportunities for continued learning.

INFORMATION FORUM

Watch for details on the Information Forum scheduled for Saturday, September 17, 2022 from 9 to 11 am. Course leaders will give a glimpse into their subject matter. Attend online or in person at the Stan Hagen Theatre on the NIC Courtenay campus. Visit https://forum.cvec.ca/ for more information and/or to register for the Information Forum.

COURSE REGISTRATION BEGINS

The week of September 19, 2022. The exact time and day will be announced by email.

COURSES ARE ON CAMPUS OR ONLINE

For this term, most courses are offered at the NIC Courtenay campus with some online. Should public health orders change to restrict meeting in person, some of the on-campus course instructors are able to switch to online delivery. Zoom links are emailed to students close to start dates; this information is not included with your registration confirmation.

LECTURE SERIES BEGINS Saturday, October 1

COURSES BEGIN Monday, October 3

CANCELLATIONS

Courses are occasionally cancelled or rescheduled. While we endeavour for this guide to be as accurate as possible, changes may happen after we go to print. Check online at www.nic.bc.ca/CVEC for the most up-to-date information.

At ElderCollege the learning process is lively, full of discussion and humour. Everyone 55+ is encouraged to join and participate. No exams; no grades; no pressure.

Message from the CVEC Chair

As we (hopefully) emerge from the pandemic, your ElderCollege team of extraordinarily committed volunteers has assembled this broad range of both online and in-person learning opportunities as well as a Saturday lecture series for the fall 2022 semester.

If there is a resurgence of COVID-19 infections, it is expected that most of the courses and all the lectures will be able to transition to a Zoom format to ensure the safety of our members and volunteers.

An important change is that we've re-introduced memberships, which were temporarily discontinued for technical reasons when COVID hit a couple of years ago. You can become a member or renew your membership and register for all the courses and lectures on our website.

We were pleased to be able to offer a substantial number of online courses throughout the pandemic – and delighted that so many of our members adapted quickly to the Zoom world. We recognize that many of our members now value the convenience of online courses and lectures, so we're planning to continue offering both on-campus and online learning opportunities even when COVID-related restrictions are a distant memory.

We are proud of the way that our course leaders adapted to the COVID challenges over the past couple years and are particularly appreciative of our NIC colleagues who provide such excellent support in scheduling our courses and lectures, both online and on campus. I also want to personally thank all our volunteers – the numerous individuals who donate their invaluable time, energy, and expertise – working behind the scenes to organize ElderCollege courses, lectures, and other activities, as well as the course leaders and lecturers themselves who are the public face of CVEC. Thank you so very much.

How to register for ElderCollege courses

North Island College Continuing Education, which is the home of Comox Valley ElderCollege, has launched a new online registration system.

All existing CVEC students who have a student ID (e.g., n999999) and password will continue to use these when accessing the new system. The website remains unchanged, as well as how the course listings appear on the regular NIC website.

For more details on how to register using the new system, please review our custom video tutorials for "new" and "returning" CVEC students: www.nic.bc.ca/continuingeducation/eldercollege/comox-valley/cvec-registration-guides/

Memberships

The $10 membership fee is returning. Memberships, valid from September 1, 2022 until April 30, 2023, are required if you would like to take a course. Members have access to the NIC library. Purchase your membership online and after the system updates overnight, you will be able to get an NIC photo ID from the Registration Office. (You will need to provide government-issued photo ID to verify your identity.)

Pricing

Course pricing is based on units of time, one unit of 1½ hours costing $5.50 and 50 cents for each additional half hour. See courses for costs. Tax is added to course costs.

In some cases, supply fees are extra. The fees are generally collected when you register and added to your course fees. In such cases, these details are noted in the course description.

Each session in the Lecture Series is $6.

A course must be dropped seven days or more prior to its start to receive a refund.

You cannot change courses once they begin.

Waitlist: You may request your name be added to a waitlist by contacting Julian Benedict (Julian.Benedict@nic.bc.ca). If leaving a message, please state your full name, your student ID number, and the course you wish to be waitlisted for.

Courses

College closed on Monday, October 10 and Friday, November 11, 2022.

Course information is correct at the time of publication. Please check website for any changes.

ARTS AND MUSIC

FELLINI: THE EARLY FILMS

$28

(4 weeks on campus) Kay Kennedy November 3 – 24

CVEC-1715-CVS1 1 – 4 pm

In film, early works – though valued – may not be the most viewed. The instructor believes that a director's early films, made on a shoestring budget before success and fortune, are the most urgent and often the most interesting. Fellini's early work is the epitome of this. We will view and discuss three early films and a later fourth, "La Dolce Vita."

INSPIRED PHONE PHOTOGRAPHY

(4 weeks online) Debbie Flynn October 4 – 25

CVEC-2765-DLS1 1 – 2:30 pm

Easily understand the basic features of your phone camera and photo editing through a hands-on experience to expressively take photos true to you. Topics include how to use your phone camera and photo editing app, the key to meaningful photography, and inspiring photography fundamentals. Debbie gives feedback on students' photos. Please note students need to review the pre-given course material/links to understand where the features are on their phone type.

MAINTAIN A MATURE SINGING VOICE $44

(8 weeks on campus) Oliver Clarke October 5 – November 23

CVEC-1889-CVS1 3 – 4:30 pm

Participants will participate in vocal exercises designed to extend vocal range and to project one's voice both in volume and in energy through intentional focus. Completed set by Jill Lunde. This course is especially beneficial for members of choirs. A few with voice problems owing to health concerns have also benefited.

MEDIEVAL AND RENAISSANCE ART

(5 weeks online) Dr. John Black

CVEC-1950-DLS1

$35

$28

November 2 - 30 1 - 4 pmView and discuss a variety of images of medieval and renaissance art. The course is organized into topics related to the worldviews of the period, including Christian belief, naturalism, individualism, and classical humanism. All participants are encouraged to engage in the discussions.

MUSIC & YOUR HEALTH

(4 weeks on campus) Dr. Alpha Woodward October 6 – 27

CVEC-5710-CVS1 1 – 4 pm

An overview of the influence of music on human behaviour, the role of music in society, and the biology and aesthetics of music as an everyday therapeutic tool. This course is didactic and experiential, and students will engage in assignments and musical activities that explore how values, beliefs and ways of communicating can be expressed through the medium of music. No previous musical training is necessary.

MUSIC FUNDAMENTALS FOR SINGERS $44

(8 weeks on campus) Robert Rennie

CVEC-1885-CVS1

October 13 – December 1 4 – 5:30 pm This fast-paced, interactive course teaches singers how to read music and improve their listening skills. By understanding basic music theory and solfège, you will learn to read melodic and rhythmic passages, and interpret music symbols used in choral music. Singing of rounds and twoand three-part songs will enhance your ability to sing in harmony with others.

> CVEC takes pride in the veracity of course content and works hard to ensure high quality overall. However, our course leaders are all volunteers with varying degrees of expertise. CVEC does not accept responsibility for content accuracy.

THE ART OF CULTURAL PATTERNING $21

(3 weeks on campus) Terri Bowen November 1 – 15

CVEC-1243-CVS1 1 – 4 pm

Patterns are important in our lives! In class one, learn about the history and development of Celtic knots and intricate designs. Then create your own design. In class two, discover the beauty of Islamic and East Indian patterning and create a mandala. In class three, discover Plains Indian and Haida cultural art patterns. Then create a bookmark and a larger picture using this knowledge. $25 supplies' fee added during registration.

UNIVERSAL DEVOTIONAL CHANTING $44

(8 weeks on campus) Oliver Clarke

CVEC-5413-CVS1 1 – 2:30 pm

October 5 – November 23 The educational and devotional benefit of this course is the realization, through actual experience, that all traditions are based in the same spirit. Like yoga, devotional chanting unites us with the essential energy of the universe. That may be called God, Tao, Buddha, Great Creator, or the re-creative energy found in nature. All are encouraged to participate, and all levels of singing ability are welcome.

VISIONS FROM AROUND THE WORLD $28

(4 weeks on campus) Brian Charlton October 5 - 26

CVEC-1726-CVS1 1 – 4 pm

This course looks at four film directors: Steve McQueen, Jane Campion, Ang Lee, and Kenneth Longeron. We will examine how their vision is translated to the screen through one of each of their films. Participants are provided with background material. One of the best parts of the course is anticipated to be the post-screening discussions.

YOU, TOO, CAN DRAW!

$7

(1 week on campus) Libby Lang October 7

CVEC-1414-CVS1 1 – 4 pm

Using simple objects, non-artists will create two beautiful life drawings. In the process, you will learn art terminology and how to apply it to create realistic renderings. Results guaranteed! Explore line, shape, composition, texture, shading, background, and the colour wheel in this handson class. A $3 fee will be charged at registration for class materials.

ECLECTIC

BE KIND TO THOSE YOU LEAVE BEHIND $33

(6 weeks on campus) Linda McLean October 12 – November 16

CVEC-3532-CVS1 1 – 2:30 pm

Our passing is inevitable: Be kind to those we leave behind! There are health decisions to make, information required by loved ones, many unknowns. Make it easier for them to handle what's required of them before and after your death. This course will help clarify your wishes, gather information and documentation on the practical side, and guide and encourage you on the personal side. $4 supplies' fee added during registration.

$11

$5.50

Michael Naish November 10 – 17 CVEC-1730-CVS1 11:30 am – 1 pm

Reichsmarshall Hermann Goering visited Colditz Castle early in WW2. He declared it to be "escapeproof," one of many prognostications Goering got wrong. In this presentation we will see how the presenter's uncle and a bookkeeper from Manitoba pulled off one of the most famous and successful WW2 escapes, learn more about amazing Dutch escapes, the fate of Prominente/ hostages, and liberation.

FRANKLIN AND THE N.W. PASSAGE

(1 week online)

Dianne Volrich & Roland Semjanovs CVEC-5908-DLS1 October 17 1 – 2:30 pm

In 1845, two ships, the HMS Terror and the HMS Erebus, set sail from England to find the northwest passage. Neither ship was seen again until recently when they were discovered in remarkably good condition, containing wellpreserved artifacts. Through records and slides, we'll unravel the mystery of what went so terribly wrong, and how Inuit stories and legends helped piece the story together.

MEDIEVAL HISTORY – WEATHER OR NOT $22

(4 weeks online) Dr. Alana Gowdy November 8 – 29

CVEC-6330-DLS1 1 – 2:30 pm

There have been several times in history when weather has determined the outcome of events. This course will study examples, mainly medieval, when changes in the weather had a major impact. Topics include the 1066 Norman invasion of England, the Great Famine of 1315, and the Battle of Towton, 1461.

ROLE OF THE EXECUTOR

(1 week on campus) Lyle Carlstrom October 5

$5.50

$5.50

Composting makes use of waste and livens up soil. And it's easy to do. Come learn the secrets of safely and quickly making rich nutritious compost out of your kitchen and yard waste. Learn why, how, where, when, and what. Bring your questions for this fun discussion with a master composter. Feed the soil that feeds the plants that feed us!

BIOFILIA: OUR CONNECTION TO NATURE $52 (8 weeks online)

Thierry Vrain October 7 – December 2

10 am – 12 noon

CVEC-5844-DLS1

Molecular biology allows us a peek at molecules at work in living cells, revealing that all cells function in the same way with the same protein molecules and the same genetic code. The course presents discoveries at the molecular and cellular level.

The relative importance of bacteria, fungi, plants, and animals is examined. How close are we to other living beings, are we the only intelligent species, is life intelligent?

CLIMATE SOLUTIONS ACTION

WORKSHOP (5 weeks online) Joan Gillies and Kari Nelson October 24 – November 21

CVEC-6390-DLS1

$27.50

6:30 – 8 pm

A workshop about climate solutions based on the research of Project Drawdown. Building a supportive community is an essential element of this interactive course. Participants will develop action plans at individual, family and friends, community, and/or policy levels and learn skills to articulate these to others. This course is for the curious and caring who are ready to roll up their sleeves to improve our planet.

FLIP SIDES OF THE INTERNET

(4 weeks online) Rob Thompson October 4 – 25

CVEC-3601-DLS1 10 – 11:30 am

This course is an open conversation. It begins with 'applied systems thinking' and ranges on to areas of direct significance to the future(s) of your grandchildren. The overarching questions are: (1) why do your grandchildren need to be on the Internet? (2) why do you need to know what your grandchildren are doing on the Internet? and (3) how do you approach the conversation about the two "why" questions above?

HOW THE INTERNET WORKS

(2 weeks on campus) Terry Hooper October 8 – 22

CVEC-3604-CVS1 1 – 3:30 pm

When you use email and web browsing, does it seem akin to magic? What happens when your computers, tablets and phones connect and use the internet? And why does the connection sometimes seem slow or not work at all? This course is for those who are curious about how things work behind the curtain and will be presented in high-level, layperson's terms.

QUANTUM PHYSICS

(8 weeks on campus) Joel Kositsky October 11 – November 29

CVEC-6301-CVS1 1 – 2:30 pm

Quantum physics (QP), the modern theory of how things work, is encountered mostly when investigating tiny things like electrons and atoms. Because of its heavy reliance on advanced mathematics, QP is difficult to comprehend by the interested non-specialist. Goals in this course are to impart a basic comprehension of this always fascinating, but rarely understood field, discussing its history, its basic (often strange) ideas, and its applications and philosophical ramifications.

VANCOUVER ISLAND ANCIENT HISTORY $11

(2 weeks on campus)
Russell Ball	CVEC-6331-CVS1
October 7 – 14	10 – 11:30 am

Island with a focus on the	Comox and Courtenay area. The course covers Ear	th movements, ancient lifeforms, and basic geolog	jic processes.

VANCOUVER ISLAND BIRDS (1 week on campus)

$5.50

CVEC-6308-CVS1 2:30 – 4 pm

Well-known nature photographer Mike Yip presents a photographic overview of the common birds of Vancouver Island and an extended discussion on bald eagles and the mysterious white raven. This is an opportunity to learn more about what you might see at your backyard feeder as well as birds from farther afield.

WHAT ARE VIRUSES ANYWAY?

(8 weeks on campus)

Mike Yip

October 11

Joel Kositsky October 7 – December 2 CVEC-5350-CVS1

$44

October 7 – December 2 Everyone's aware that a virus caused the COVID-19 pandemic. But what exactly are viruses, and how do they differ from bacteria and other parasites? In brief, viruses are tiny biological entities that can infect all other lifeforms: bacteria; fungi; plants; and animals. We will explore how this occurs and how viruses replicate, mutate, spread, and cause illness. We'll also look at how vaccines work to protect us from viruses.

FALL LECTURE SERIES (CVEC-9009-CVS1)

7 SATURDAY LECTURES | 10 AM TO 12 NOON | ON CAMPUS AND ONLINE | $42 FOR THE SERIES OR $6/LECTURE

First Nations Perspectives: Honouring the Past; Exploring the Present

First Nations peoples have lived on Vancouver Island for thousands of years and are the traditional keepers of this land. The Fall 2022 Lecture Series will explore some of the culture and history of the Island through a First Nations' lens. Speakers for this series will share insights into art, the role of knowledge keepers, repatriation of cultural artifacts, the potlatch, Vancouver Island treaties, experiences of living on reserve, and language revitalization.

ART AND TRADITION OF THE NUU-CHAH-NULTH $6

Joe Martin CVEC-9000-CVS1

October 1

Master canoe and totem carver Joe Martin from Tofino has revived the art of carving dugout canoes and will explain his role and responsibility as an artist in his community. As an ambassador for Clayoquot Sound and the traditions of the Nuu-chah-nulth, he promotes cultural practice and cross-cultural education. He will also discuss the symbolism of totem poles.

Mr. Martin is dedicated to the art and tradition of carving the ocean-going dugout canoes that connected the villages of the northwest coast of Vancouver Island. He is well-known in the Clayoquot Sound area for his art and skill and has built 62 canoes. Locally, he supervised the construction of the new K'omoks canoe.

VANCOUVER ISLAND TREATIES (1850-54)

Dr. Neil Vallance CVEC-9001-CVS1 In 1849 Britain granted Vancouver Island to the Hudson's Bay Company for 10 years on the understanding that it would promote colonization and negotiate the surrender of all First Nation land. Starting in 1850 James Douglas, on behalf of the HBC, entered into 14 agreements with Island First Nations. Dr. Neil Vallance provides answers to two questions: what were the terms of these agreements, and why did treaty-making cease in 1854?

Dr. Vallance is an historical researcher who has spent over 20 years preparing ethno-historical reports on claims by First Nations that Canada has breached the terms of the Vancouver Island treaties of 1850-1854. His doctorate from the UVic Faculty of Law focused on the formation of Vancouver Island treaties.

BEYOND GILAKAS'LA: LANGUAGES COMING ALIVE $6 Tłakwama'ogwa, Sara Child and Dr. Lorna Wanosts'a7 Williams CVEC-9002-CVS1 October 22

CVEC-9002-CVS1 October 22 Tłakwama'ogwa, Sara Child and Dr. Lorna Wanosts'a7 Williams will explain how applying local Indigenous approaches to language learning is essential to breathing life back into the language, not to just create speakers, but to reawaken the soul of the language. Language revitalization is not merely about speaking a language. It is more about unearthing values, beliefs and principles of wellness encoded in the language that can guide one's relationships with the land, sea, spirit, self, and others.

Awi'nakola: we are one with the land, sea, and sky

Maya'xala xus Bakwine: respect your mind body and Spirit

Yu'x̪aႍn's Kis'o: our treasures

liDxsa'akw: to have learned, been taught

Ms. Child is a researcher and educator specializing in Indigenous language revitalization. She works at North Island College and is passionate in her belief that revitalizing Indigenous languages will create pathways to healing, equity, and the resurgence of wellness for Indigenous people and nations.

Dr. Williams lost her language as a child attending St. Joseph's Mission residential school. Before retiring, she was the Canada Research Chair in Indigenous Knowledge and Learning at UVic. Dr. Williams is currently chair of the BC First Peoples Cultural Foundation and a member of the Canadian UNESCO work group for the Decade of Indigenous Languages.

POTLATCH: THEN AND NOW $6 Wedlidi Speck

CVEC-9003-CVS1 October 29 Explore the origins of the potlatch ceremony, its historical development, colonial disruption (1884-1930s), and the emergence of the contemporary potlatch (1969-present). Gain a new understanding and appreciation of the cultural significance and complexity of this unique Northwest Coast First Nations tradition.

Mr. Speck is a hereditary chief and recognized

historian, storyteller, and spiritual leader. He is currently Director of Indigenous Recruitment and Cultural Safety with the BC Ministry of Children and Family Development.

KNOWLEDGE KEEPERS – THEIR $6 ROLES AND DUTIES Dr. Evelyn Voyageur

CVEC-9004-CVS1

November 5

Wise knowledge keepers were responsible for teaching First Nations people about their history, including the beginning stories of each tribe. Family connections, which were very important, were taught to all children. Connection to the land, earth, water, and air, connection to all creation, whether animals or humans, as well as connection to the Creator (God) were all important. This lecture will explain knowledge keepers' responsibilities using historical and current examples.

Dr. Voyageur has worked in hospitals and communities in Alberta and B.C., and has taught and developed nursing curricula at UVic and NIC. In her current role as Elder-in-Residence at North Island College, she guides curriculum, mentors students, and brings First Nations' ways of knowing into classrooms.

ON-RESERVE HOUSING: CANADA'S OTHER HOUSING SYSTEM $6

Dr. Sylvia Olsen CVEC-9005-CVS1

November 19

The presenter shares her rich personal experience of living on-reserve, serving as housing manager, and working across the country on various housing boards and committees. She taught First Nations housing management at Vancouver Island University for years and wrote the first textbook in the field. First Nations housing has been one of Canada's most troubling social issues. Despite continuing challenges, many First Nations are making significant positive changes.

Dr. Olsen is an adult educator and trainer who has worked in the field of onreserve housing across Canada for many years.

She has served on national and provincial boards and committees. advocating for change to government policy. Dr. Olsen also taught housing management at Vancouver Island University and is an award-winning author of books in a wide variety of genres.

REPATRIATION AT U'MISTA CULTURAL CENTRE $6 Juanita Johnston

CVEC-9006-CVS1

November 26 U'mista Cultural Centre is a small museum with big dreams and an even bigger mandate: "to ensure the survival of all aspects of the cultural heritage of the Kwakwa ka 'wakw." As one of the longest running cultural centres in Canada, U'mista has extensive experience in repatriation, spanning over 40 years and ongoing to today. Juanita Johnson will cover the history of their potlatch collection and their experience with repatriation.

Ms. Johnston is the executive director of U'mista Cultural Centre in Alert Bay. She has worked there in various capacities since 1989, supporting membership, maintaining and researching collections, developing exhibits, and coordinating repatriation efforts.
